

This document provides the consent forms associated with this survey.

DESCRIPTION: You are invited to participate in a research study on foreign affairs and Presidential decision making. The following questions are about U.S. relations with other countries around the world. You will read about a fictional situation our country has faced in the past and will probably face again in the future. Different U.S. leaders have handled the situation in different ways. We will describe a particular international incident and how the U.S. president approached it, then ask you your opinion about this incident.

TIME INVOLVEMENT: Your participation will take approximately five minutes, make sure not to rush through questions.

PAYMENT AND BENEFITS: By participating in this survey, you will receive points from SSI. While there are no other immediate benefits to you as a result of participating in this study, the results gained will help inform broader public policy debates. No risks are associated with this study.

PARTICIPANT'S RIGHTS: If you have read this form and have decided to participate in this project, please understand your participation is voluntary and you have the right to withdraw your consent or discontinue participation at any time without penalty or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled. The alternative is not to participate. You have the right to refuse to answer particular questions. The results of this research study may be presented at scientific or professional meetings or published in scientific journals.
